ABOUT

KZN Water Specialist has over 10 years experience in all aspects of water treatment which is described in further detail below. The staff at KZN Water Specialist have over the course of time built solid client relationships by providing thorough, well executed services. This has enabled them to gain trust and traction within the water treatment industry.

SERVICES AND EXPERTISE

Industrial water use includes water used for fabricating, processing, washing, diluting, cooling, heating, transporting of products; incorporating water into a product; or for sanitation needs within the manufacturing facility. The KZN Water Specialist team has knowledge, experience and products to assist customers in all the above mentioned sectors and more.

Heating, Cooling, Effluent (waste water) and Raw water treatment are 4 common processes in industry where effective water treatment is essential. We at KZN Water Specialist understand these processes well which allows us to not only supply a product that works, but to supply a complete solution that works.
